

I am a homeowner at Valley Road in Guelph. I have major concerns about the intensification of The South Gordon corridor.

The intention of high density buildings of a height that isn't compatible with the residential area is extremely troubling.

We built in this city because of our love of the green spaces and ease of shopping plus a small town feel. With the recent developments especially in the south that feeling is rapidly disappearing.

I understand growth is needed but at what cost. To get more revenue from taxes that are generated from multiple heights and units. It will compromise our green space and throw literal shade amongst the neighbours. The parking situation is already abysmal and to add to with the increased residents just plainly won't work.

Please keep Guelph one of the top places to live in Canada. The simple fact is that to allow growth without compromising the beauty of the neighbourhood needs to be key. Introducing more more parking woes is not and logistical commuting ability needs to be strongly considered.

Thank you for your consideration to keep Guelph the beautiful and green city that it currently is and not to risk that with high density builds.

Respectfully
