

Dear Mayor Guthrie and members of Council:

I'm not sure how many of you may have seen this article from the CBC website:

As water sources dry up, towns in southern Quebec sound the alarm.

Farmers worry about livestock, municipalities restrict water use, seek expert advice.

<https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/montreal/quebec-water-shortage-1.6488368>

I think it is a cautionary tale about what could happen in Guelph as we face increased evaporation because of climate change. Council needs to take decisive action now and not put future Councils over a barrel by kicking the can down the road.

Sincerely,

Susan Watson